

Karen Jasie
Grants and Budget
Manager

Karen Jasie is the Grants and Budget Manager at the Global HIV Vaccine Enterprise. In her current role, she manages expenditures against project budgets, including the biennial HIV Research for Prevention Conference (HIVR4P), oversees funder reporting processes, and assists with the development of grant applications, including coordination of content development and financials. Prior to joining the Enterprise, she worked as Manager of Grant Administration at North Jersey Community Research Initiative (NJCRI), in Newark, NJ.

Karen holds a Bachelor's Degree in Accounting from Suffolk University in Boston, MA, and two Master's degrees from New York University, one in Public and Nonprofit Management and Policy, and one in Global Public health. Karen also has her credentials in Project Management.